

Teia Hill, MSW

Social Worker, Funeral Service Apprentice, and Entrepreneur

Teia Hill is a compassionate and dedicated social worker with a strong focus on supporting adults and families through life's most complex challenges. Known for her empathy, attention to detail, and excellent interpersonal skills, Teia brings a warm and supportive presence to every family she serves. Her commitment to helping others is reflected in her ability to build trust and provide meaningful guidance in times of need.

In addition to her work in social services, Teia is a devoted apprentice at a local funeral home, where she is actively pursuing her passion for funeral directing and embalming. Her calling to serve families with dignity and care during their most vulnerable moments drives her to excel in this solemn and honorable profession.

Teia is also the founder and CEO of Sitting Pretty, a lifestyle brand that celebrates beauty, grace, and all things "pretty." Through her entrepreneurial vision, she combines creativity and care to inspire confidence and joy in others.

Balancing her roles in social work, funeral services, and business, Teia Hill exemplifies dedication, compassion, and purpose in everything she does.
